

ALL SUBSCRIPTIONS MUST BE IN BEFORE 10 P. M. TO-NIGHT

Last Day of the Herald's Great 'Round the World and Mediterranean Tour Contest—Ten People to Be Given Free Trips to Old World.

GENERAL NOTICE TO CONTESTANTS.

Ascertain positively whether your subscriptions are old or new before turning them in, so that there may be no need to cut down any votes. Every contestant should turn in their votes early today so that the contest department will have time for the proper handling of receipts. Remember that not one minute after 10 p. m. will any one be permitted to turn in subscriptions, and mail arriving after 10 p. m. containing subscriptions will not count.

This is absolute and positive. If the clerks are unable to receive your subscriptions at the last moment, large envelopes will be provided to place your subscriptions and money in so they can be handed in before 10. Your name should be on the outside and a note inside with the amount of money enclosed. Have your subscriptions all filled out, with the exception of the line at the bottom of the ballot for the signature of the secretary and the space for the number of the ballot.

The end of The Herald's race for tours around the world and to the Mediterranean comes to-night at 10 o'clock. The last subscription must be turned in and the work and effort of the contestants will be at an end at that hour.

If you have promised any of these candidates a subscription, NOW IS THE ONLY TIME to bring or send it in so it will do them any good.

All candidates or representatives must be in The Herald office before 10 o'clock to-night with their subscriptions, or they cannot be counted.

The contestant in each district securing the highest number of votes will be awarded a trip. Of the ten trips there will be four grand prizes. These will be two trips to Europe to one contestant, and a trip around the world to three contestants. These four grand prizes will fall to the four highest district vote winners—that is, the contestant securing the highest number of votes of all the winners has his or her choice of either two trips to Europe or a trip around the world. If he or she chooses the two trips to Europe, the next three highest district vote winners will be awarded the three trips around the world; but if the grand leader prefers a trip around the world to two trips to Europe, the second highest district vote winner will have the choice of two trips to Europe or one trip around the world. In other words, the two trips to Europe to one winner and the three trips around the world to three winners will be distributed among the four highest winners, the choice being given to the highest winner, and on down. The other district winners will be awarded trips to Europe.

To the candidate among those remaining after the above nine trips have been awarded who has made the highest gain in votes during the three weeks' period from November 25 to December 16 will be given a trip to the Mediterranean.

By this arrangement every candidate who has been energetic and piled up a large number of votes has first the original chance to win out in his own district.

If the leader in your district is too strong for you, and you lose the district trip, you still have one more chance of winning the extra trip awarded to the highest gainer.

This extra trip excites more speculation and interest than the other trips, because so many calculations enter into it.

First—Because most of the heaviest voters secured most of their reserve vote before this offer was announced, and consequently that vote does not count for the extra trip.

Second—Of the uncertainty of who will be the regular trip winners in each district, and in the elimination of these, who will be the strongest vote gatherers among the losers, of the last three weeks.

Third—That there is absolutely no way to tell from the vote exhibit who has made gains that count on this trip. The ballots voted may have been turned in before this extra trip period. Information gathered in going the rounds as to the strength of an opponent is not satisfactory, either, as the contestant has no way of telling whether these subscriptions were turned in before or after this special offer was made.

It is a fair field and no favor, and DO NOT BE MISLED BY THE SMALL VOTE THAT APPEARS IN THE VOTE SCHEDULE after some of the contestants' names.

They are holding up votes just the same as you are, so get every one in before the clock strikes 10 to night. MAKE A RECORD FOR YOURSELF.

And—may the best hustler win.

Only the single newspaper coupons that were received up to 12 midnight December 14, appear in the vote schedule to-day.

Muirhead Funeral Held.
Attended by many old friends, the funeral services of William Muirhead were held at the family residence, 88 R street northwest, yesterday afternoon. Mr. Muirhead was a member of the Association of Oldest Inhabitants of the District of Columbia, and had been a resident of Washington for fifty years. He was an employee of the Washington Navy Yard.

With speechmaking and a luncheon, the Alumni Association of Central High School will hold its annual reunion on the afternoon of December 27. Addresses will be delivered by Prof. Howard L. Hodgkins, Walter C. Clapham, Henry H. Glassie, Dr. Joseph S. Wall, L. Russell Alden, Paul E. Leach, I. Paul Taylor, and Principal Emory Wilson.

Largest Morning Circulation.

HINTS AT REIGN OF TERROR HERE

by Mr. Brandeis for his attitude in the tobacco dissolution decree. Much of the day's discussion was devoted to a consideration of the case. Referring more to the court than to the attorneys, Mr. Brandeis said:

"With extraordinary lack of the trading quality in that, they accepted the plan submitted by the tobacco company's attorneys as the only one they would either give or take."

Referring to the action of the Attorney General in giving his approval to the decree the witness continued:

"In private practice any lawyer, recognizing the fact that circuit courts have been created because of the unfairness of man, would have refused to accept this decree until it had been reviewed by the United States Supreme Court to see if it was held in line with the decision of that court. Instead of this, the Attorney General acquiesced, and a condition resulted that leaves the independents in worse condition than before the suit was brought."

"Who," asked Senator Pomerehne, "in your opinion, rendered the greater service to the tobacco industry, the counsel or the Attorney General?"

Mr. Brandeis evaded a direct reply. "The trust now is in better shape than before the decree for the things that were illegal have been legalized," he said.

Labor's Revenge Coming.

The witness prophesied that the time was coming when the trusts would reap their natural reward from conditions he said they have created.

"The revenge that is coming to them," he said, "is due to their treatment of labor. Workmen in these concerns are driven like slaves and this results in loss of efficiency, for the corporations get only the results that come with slavery and slave methods."

"Urging shorter hours and better wages, he said: 'I believe in the economy of shorter hours. It means better efficiency, more humane treatment, and more work.'"

The question of socialism came up yesterday again. Just after Mr. Brandeis said the socialists were hoping that all the declared that nothing had been so favorable to the increase of socialism in this country as the development of enormously large fortunes through profits from the industrial trusts. Like the old paragon who wished Christianity was embodied in one person so it might be destroyed by a single blow, Mr. Brandeis said the socialists were hoping that all these combinations might be gathered into one so that by a single act they might be taken over. J. Pierpont Morgan said the socialists were looking upon as their friend because he was, from their point of view, paving the way for this condition, where it would require less and the greedily might ultimately be applied in a single blow. Mr. Brandeis has been on the stand two days. The committee displays great interest in his views. He will resume this morning.

STATE OF TERROR AT FORT RILEY

Many Officers Get Threatening Letters.

Fort Riley, Kans., Dec. 15.—That Fort Riley has been for nine months as near a state of terror as a well-disciplined army post can get is just becoming known here. Not only were there enough incendiary fires and dynamite explosions, but the commanding officers of the post had received letters threatening them with death and their families with destruction. Night and day since early last spring, Fort Riley has been under more than double guard, and the homes of commanding officers guarded night and day.

Of the dynamite explosions and fires the public already knows a little, but there has been nothing written of personal attacks by the letters on some of the officers. Brig. Gen. W. S. Schuyler, commander of the post, Col. C. D. Hoyle, and commanding the Sixth Field Artillery, and Col. A. P. Hatfield were recipients of letters threatening them with personal violence and the blowing up of their homes.

The first and one of the worst fires was on the night of March 14, when the quarters of the post were entirely destroyed by fire with a loss of $100,000.

At midnight, June 24, the government bridge was dynamited. The morning of June 28, fire destroyed Troop A's stable and killed twenty-seven horses. August 9 and 10, an attempt was made to blow up the water main and cut the fort entirely from its supply of water. The last fire was September 8, when flames were discovered in a trash can in the administration building, very little damage was done. In spite of the large guard, the criminal or criminals carried the schemes of destruction without being caught in the act. The cost to the government has been over $1,000,000.

GARY DENOUNCES BRANDEIS' ATTACK

Brands Pearl Necklace Story a "Fake."

CALLS STEEL TRUST ALTRUIST

Head of Giant Corporation Makes Detailed Reply to Boston Anti-Trust Lawyer and Tells of Progressive Policy Toward Its Employees—Voluntary Aid Fund.

New York, Dec. 15.—Elbert H. Gary, executive head of the steel trust, hit back hard to-night at Louis D. Brandeis directly, and indirectly at everybody else who has been hurling brickbats at him, or the great corporation whose energies and destinies he directs.

Judge Gary received a representative of The Herald in his apartment at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, a few hours after Mr. Brandeis, the famous anti-trust lawyer of Boston, had criticized the steel trust before the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce at Washington for the treatment of its employees, and also referred pessimistically to the report that Judge Gary had given Mrs. Gary a $500,000 pearl necklace as a Christmas present. On the latter point Mr. Brandeis was quoted as saying:

"Just such things as this brought on the social unrest that led to the French revolution."

No Necklace for Wife.

Judge Gary read the report of Mr. Brandeis' statement very carefully before he spoke. Then he said:

"I am loath to speak of the report of my having given Mrs. Gary a pearl necklace for a Christmas present that cost a half million dollars, or any other amount. Of course it isn't true. I have not bought a pearl for a long time, and have no present intention of buying any. 'I speak of it reluctantly for two reasons. The first is, that it is a subject which touches very closely my most intimate family affairs. Neither Mrs. Gary nor myself like this sort of publicity. The only reason I reply to it at all is that Mr. Brandeis has made such use of it. I am sorry that he has descended to such cheap talk. I had hoped that his efforts to help solve the industrial and economic problems of the country would be maintained on the high intellectual plane which I had thought he occupied. I feel that his exhibition at Washington to-day will disappoint the steel trust.'"

"That is all Judge Gary cared to say about Mr. Brandeis or the pearl necklace story. He then took up the other phase of the Boston lawyer's criticisms of the steel trust.

"All such attacks," he said, "are personal to myself because I direct the policies of the steel corporation. I helped to organize it. I have been with it from its infancy to its present. I know its operations and its progress. I have elaborately set these forth without reservation before the Senate and the House of Representatives. The record is made up.
